

Third Grade Newsletter

FROM MRS. SCOTT

JANUARY 26, 2024

Coming up next week...

Reading: Next week we will begin our next story, Tops and Bottoms. We will use this story to work on problem/solution and character analysis. We will also be learning about identifying the moral of a story.

Will we get any more snow??

Math: Students will be continuing their work with fractions. We will focus a lot on equivalent fractions and will be doing a packet of various activities through the week to better our understanding.

Science: The students will be working on an animal adaptation article about an endangered animal and using information from the article to create a poster representing information about the animal using only pictures, no text.

English: We will be working on a unit of verbs and verb tense. We will work on using correct verb tense when writing and discuss past, present, and future tense verbs.

Social Studies: Next week we will begin continue our Missouri History unit by learning about Missouri symbols. We will be using a great website that has all of the symbols of Missouri and how they came to be known as a Missouri symbol.
