Have a wonderful weekend!

Here's What Is Coming Up Next Week

Reading: Our focus for next week will be to conclude our current story, Aero and Officer Mike. We will then begin a unit over stories written by Beverly Cleary. We will be reading an excerpt from Ramona Quimby, Age 8. We will use the works of this author to work on characterization, feelings, and motivations of action.

Math: We will be working through out next portion of Unit 5 to create area and perimeter robots using given units of perimeter and area to construct the parts of the robot.

Science: We will finish Unit 3-the assessment will be the test and construction of the RoboGrazer project that we have been working on in class. We will then begin unit 4 will begin which is about Weather and Climate.

St. Patrick's Day: March 17th

Social Studies: Next week we will be working on our Mis-sourians powerpoint slides and presentation using the information we have discovered during the research process.

English: There will be a test on Thursday over verbs. This will include past, present, and future tense verbs as well as regular and irregular verbs used in writing.
