Avenue City Elementary

From: Mrs. Scott and Ms. Hatfield

What is Third Grade Doing Next Week?

Reading: This week in reading, we will be reading the short story, Bat Loves the Night. With this story, we will continue working on journal prompts and cause and effect. We will also be starting research over bats.

Math: We will begin the week by starting our next unit. Our main focus this week will be place value. We will be doing different activities throughout the week to understand what place value is.

Science: This week in science, we will be learning about traits that are not inherited. This will result in an investigation over what determines traits.

Social Studies: This will be our last week discussing the Civil War. We will be reviewing what we learned on Thursday and testing on Friday.

English: We will be continuing learning about possessive nouns this week. On Wednesday, students will begin writing a short story about Thanksgiving. They will include all of the types of nouns that we have covered so far this year in their story.

** The half-way mark for AR points will be next week Students will be given a report of their AR up through mid-November. Final points are due on November 30th!
