What is Third Grade Doing Next Week?

Reading: Our skill lesson will focus on predicting events in the story using The Chalkbox Kid book. We will also work on characterization as well as inferring story events based upon the actions of the main character.

Math: We are continuing working on fluency with all of our multiplication facts. We will also continue solving and writing our own word problems.

Science: Students will continue to examine wolf data. They will be asking questions, making observations, and exploring patterns to investigate

Enjoy a wonderful weekend!!

this unit's problem further.

Social Studies: Next week we will be continuing our unit on The Civil War. We will be completing a foldable and talking about issues that led to the war and the differences between the Confederate and Union states.

English: We will be spending time learning about all different types of nouns next week. This will include plural, singular, and irregular nouns. We have many activities to help us learn all about these.

Party helpers:

Take home treats: Becky White
