

Avenue City School is a Unique Beast

Don Lawrence, Superintendent

I wish I had a dollar for every time I had to explain to both St. Joseph residents and Savannah residents that Avenue City is its own autonomous school district and that it not part of either one of their “school systems.” As most of us realize, Avenue City School possesses our own school board, our own policies, our own budget and our own way of doing things. Quite frankly, and to be a little one-sided in the discussion, its way of doing things is a lot better than most school districts.

In the 1950s schools across Missouri were forced with a decision about reorganizing and combining schools. Savannah, St. Joseph and almost every school in the state looked to see who they might merge with to create a bigger and better school system. However, the people of the Avenue City School District came to their own conclusion and decided that bigger was not always better. They also made a commitment to put their money where their mouth was and voted themselves a higher tax levy than their neighbors to keep their school just the way they liked it. Over the years, the school has grown significantly in building size and in student population. Yet, there remains something special about “the Avenue.” I noticed it right off. After spending 30 years in larger schools and school districts, I came to work here and after one year I gave Avenue City my own personal nickname and called it “the island.” To me, it seemed like the turmoil, stress and strain on staff, students and the general atmosphere just didn’t exist at Avenue City. There was and is a feeling of tremendous parental support. The community and parental appreciation of the staff was overwhelming. Under it all, there was a feeling that the staff loved the children and the children seemed, for the most part, to love them right back and that was, and is, something very unique.

How long could this atmosphere last? Late last year, reality hit. One of our neighboring districts began a discussion about raising our high school tuition 75%. This was the first significant threat to happiness and harmony that I had experienced in the 7 years I had been at “the island” and I mean it was significant. The thought of our tuition payments going from $200,000 per year to $600,000 per year caused many sleepless nights. We began to prepare our defense/plea to our neighbor. They allowed me to speak to their finance committee. While I have never cared for committee work, I was thankful for the opportunity to speak to their work group. It was important to communicate that such a significant and immediate increase might, in fact, shut down the entire district. We also provided some statistics that were designed to assist our neighbors in realizing just how much value our Avenue City islanders actually brought to their district. To us, it seems as though the students of the Avenue City District bring a certain value to the area high schools above and beyond a simple tuition payment. In fact, all of the following numbers help the neighboring district in maintaining their accreditation.

- 1) In this particular neighboring district, while their attendance rates were hovering around 88%, the Avenue City high school attendance rates were 95%.
- 2) The average Avenue City high school student’s GPA (grade point average) were significantly higher than that of our neighbors.

- 3) Our neighbor's 5-year graduation rate is 86.65% Avenue City's high school students had a 5-year graduation of 100%.
- 4) Our neighbor's ACT average score is 18.8. Avenue City's high school students averaged ACT score is 24.9.

Because the neighboring administration allowed me to address their committee, the district was able to temporarily avoid the initiation of a substantial tuition increase. Thankful and grateful can only describe our reaction to the administration's and the committee's decision to delay the increase in our high school tuition. Still, the dark cloud lingers out on the horizon like a tropical storm churning and building just off the horizon of our little island. If and when that storm hits, the citizens of the Avenue City School District will have some major decisions to make. Until that time, we will continue to do what it is that we do and produce great students designed to be our future leaders and decision makers. In addition to the knowledge they receive, we also hope that they take that caring kindness with them wherever they go and pray that they apply it in all that they will do. In today's world, that would be truly unique.

2019 Summer Reading Program - A Universe of Stories!

The ACES Summer Reading Program has been going strong this summer! We started with William and Barb Dooley who taught us about planets and the solar system. We even got to launch a rocket!! Kathy Ridge came and shared a presentation on aviation and the Wright brothers. A visit to the Missouri Western planetarium was a fun field trip as well! Jerry Maccoux visited and read braille books to the students, this was super cool!! Students have also been able to read to special dogs that Stacie Reece and Elaine Wallace brought out. Will Stuck is always a main attraction and was fantastic with his program, "Galaxy of Giggles!" We will finish up the summer program with Dr. Michael Ducey and Dr. Csengele Barta from the Science Department at Missouri Western State University.

Each week the Rolling Hills Bookmobile visited and we were able to check out books. Students were able to give back to the community with donations to the Noyes Home each week. Thank you for your generosity!! We would also like to thank the Savannah Dairy Queen and St. Joseph Mustangs for their donations that we were able to use for prizes!

8 Ways to Prepare Your Child for Preschool

Preschool is often our children's first experience away from home. It can be scary for children and for parents. Here are 8 tips to help you and your child have a successful first day of Preschool!

1. Meet the teacher - Take your child to the Open House offered by the school. Help her become acquainted with the classroom, the teachers and the playground.
2. Playdates - If you know a few of the students/families that will be in his class, try to organize a get-together at a park in the neighborhood to help him become acquainted with classmates. Or, if you're new to the district or do not know any families, take him to the park or a mother's day out program so he can become familiar with playing and sharing with other children his age.

3. Practice separation Leave your child with others for short lengths of time so that they know you will return.
4. Backpack and lunchbox before school starts, help her be excited about starting school by empowering her to pick out a backpack. If she is staying all day, she'll need a lunchbox. Keep in mind everything you have to fit in these items. In her backpack, she may need a special blankie or stuffed animal, room for an 8.5 x 11" folder, extra clothes and extra space for all that art work! You will need to put an ice pack in her lunchbox. Fill it with food you know she already likes.
5. Independent skills - If your child is staying all day, ask him to help you prepare his lunch. That way, he'll feel like he has some control and will also begin to understand what is really happening that day.
6. Focus on your child - Make the whole experience as fun as possible. Give your child your full attention on the way to school. Phone calls can wait. Tell her stories about when you were a little girl and how much you liked school. Sing songs. Try a spin-off version of "If you're happy and you know it, clap your hands." Make it, "If you're excited to go to school, clap your hands!" Be excited, smile a lot, and be happy for her.
7. Communicate Tell him it is okay to be afraid, but that there are always adults to help him and he can ask for help anytime. Promise him that you will pick him up in a few hours or after a certain activity at school – like when the teacher sings a certain song or reads the last book of the day.
8. Don't linger - When it's time for drop-off, keep your goodbyes short, sweet and simple. Give her a quick hug, tell her how much you love her, and leave her in the hands of the capable teacher. Even if she's crying hysterically, she will likely only cry for a few minutes once you're out of sight. But if you linger, the crying will probably last longer.

Breathe. You got this!

Sing with Wing

It will soon be time to enter the music room singing our opening song of Hello, Hello, Hello. New songs, movements, and instruments await as we begin our musical journey this year. I was able to attend a music workshop in June and look forward to implementing some new ideas in the classroom. I was also able to take in several concerts, local bands, orchestras, children choirs, and plays. My all-time favorite music was listening to pines whisper, aspen leaves clap, and streams roar as I rode my bike down Colorado mountain trails. I look forward to hearing about your summer music experience as we begin this year. – Mrs. Wing

ACES Washington, D.C. Trip:

Mrs. Forney led a group of seventeen ACES students, family members, & staff to Washington, D.C. in May 2019. Those who traveled were: Danika Clark, Ashley Davis, Ashley Farrell, Kaylea Farrell, Annelise Forney, Lucy Froehlich, Johannah Hausman, Max Howe, Missy Howe, Macy Keling, Annaliese Kendall, Alayna Pargas, Carla Proctor, Ella Scott, Shay Wilmes, Trinity Wilmes, and Kathryn Yingling. The group traveled via World Strides student travel agency & made many wonderful memories! The group saw many sites including Arlington Cemetery, the Holocaust

Museum, Mount Vernon, the Smithsonian's Air and Space Museum, Natural History Museum, and the American History Museum, as well as countless memorials & monuments. In addition, Missouri Senator Roy Blunt's office helped the group get in on an unforgettable White House tour! The group walked many miles and though they came home worn out, they came back filled with appreciative hearts for our amazing nation. A huge thank you to all of those who helped support them in their trip!

ACES Student Council:

The 2019 ACES Student Council, led by Mrs. Forney, had a wonderful election week in April. So many amazing students bravely ran for Student Council. This school year our council members are President Macy Keling (8th gr.), Vice President Lucy Froelich (8th gr.), and Secretary/ Treasurer Hillary Elifrits (8th gr.). The 8th Grade Representatives are Ethan Zeit and Caydence Stains. The 7th Grade Representatives are Kaylee Christman and Jackson Sigrist. The 6th Grade Representatives are Alayna Pargas and Lillian Richardson.

The council plans to meet on Sunday, August 11th from 4PM to 6PM at the school for their summer retreat to continue planning for the school year.

The council would like to send a huge thank you to all those in our amazing district who donated to their Annual Hello/Goodbye Dance held at the end of April, especially to the teachers who chaperoned (Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Pargas, and Mrs. Sigrist). Also, big thanks to Avenue City Grocery for their donation of glass soda pop! They were a definite hit and really added to the country theme of the party! A final big thank you goes out to Adam & his wife, with M & M Mobile, who ran the music and lights! Needless to say, the dance was a blast and the middle school students cannot wait to host another!

Parents as Teachers

Do you have a child that is not yet in school? Did you know that there is a program through the school for your child? Parents as Teachers (PAT) is a free program for kids birth to preschool age. We recognize that parents are their child's first and most influential teacher. We want to help foster that relationship and help prepare your child for school. PAT offers personal in home visits from a PAT educator, group activities, developmental screenings and referrals for more help, if needed.

Do you wonder if your young child is developing appropriately for their age? Come to the school for a free screening and find out. PAT is offering screenings for kids 6 months to 4 years old, who are not currently enrolled in the PAT program. The screenings will be held the week of August 19th-23rd during school hours. Call the school (816-662-2305), beginning August 1st to get a day and time for your screening. Screenings take approximately one hour and you will find out if your child is developmentally on track. You can also learn more about the PAT program with no obligation to join.

If you have any questions or want to join the PAT program, contact PAT educator Staci Wolfe at swolfe@avenuecityschool.org

Professional Development News

The staff at Avenue City use the summer months to take classes, attend workshops, and work on curriculum for the upcoming school year. Several staff members are in the process of attending many different opportunities that will help them to grow professionally. This year, the district will be working on English Language Arts Curriculum. There will be a lot of time spent analyzing the standards required by the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education to ensure that our curriculum is meeting all of those requirements. With the help of the Regional Professional Development Center in Maryville, we will analyze our current curriculum as well as new curriculum to determine our strengths and weaknesses. More information regarding this process will be sent in each district mailing to keep parents and community members aware as to how this process is continuing to develop.

Early childhood staff and others have been learning about Conscious Discipline. This strategy is very clear on the brain-based research that shows what needs to happen for a child, a person, to be at the best mind state in order to learn. In Preschool and Kindergarten, the focus is on safety, feeling loved and being able to handle their upsets and use their big voice to speak for themselves and get what they need. This is HUGE in their development and how they will respond and handle situations for the rest of their lives. As they age, Conscious Discipline takes adults through the needs, the skills and the motivations that cause children to act out or to be their best, as well as skills for us as teachers to help them get there. If you are interested in learning more, there are a few free on-line parent resources; just google "conscious discipline".

Several Avenue City teachers will be attending Kagan Win-Win Discipline Workshop in July. This is a two day workshop that will focus on creating a classroom that promotes acceptable behaviors. Win-Win Discipline is a comprehensive program used worldwide and it boasts transforming our concept of discipline: “Discipline is not something we do to students; it is something we help students acquire!” The teachers will be learning award winning step-by-step strategies for most every discipline problem. This training will help staff with easy-to-use strategies for prevention, for the moment-of-disruption, and for follow-ups. Instructional staff will learn to recognize and respond differently to the seven positions that cause almost all discipline problems. They will also learn to change disruptions into learning opportunities. Teachers will be excited to begin implementing these strategies!!

Aces Garden Club 2019

This year ACES Garden Club has had approximately 10-15 members coming each Monday to care for our community garden. We have been weeding, watering, planting, bug watching, plant identifying, and making delicious snacks with the foods that we are growing. We are excited to announce that we have seen Monarch caterpillars on our Milkweed plants! Second grade does a study on the butterfly life cycle, so our students are eager to see if they stick around this year to undergo their metamorphosis. Garden Club’s goal for this fall is to make a spaghetti lunch for members using plants from the garden, like our spaghetti squash and tomatoes.
