For the week of Jan. 16-20

Second Grade

No School Monday - Martin Luther King Jr. Holiday

Reading- We will continue to read from the Magic Tree House Knight at Dawn. We will finish this book and take a test over it at the end of the week. We are working on vocabulary and story structure. The book will not come home unless your child may need extra reading practice. We have done a lot of discussing during class for these tests.

English - We will be working on writing paragraphs and collective nouns.

Spelling - We will have spelling this week. Words will come home on Tuesday with sentences. We will work with the sentences on Wednesday, no-pretest. Practice on Thursday and take the final test on Friday.

Math - We are still working on memorizing our subtraction facts. We will start working with larger numbers to subtract.

Science - We will spend part of our time learning more about changes on our Earth.

Social Studies - We will spend part of our time learning about Martin Luther King, Jr. and making peaceful resolutions.

Share Time - Bring something that is old. It can be something your child thinks is old or truly an antique. Unusual items are always fun to guess what they are. Make sure your child knows what it is and approximately how old it is.
