

Mrs. Svendsen's Kindergarten News

Reading – Our heartwords this week will be on, like, and at. Keep practicing frequently at home to build that fluency!

Our theme this week will be 5 Senses. We will make connections to our self, texts, and our world as we explore our senses.

Handwriting – We will learn the letters y, j, and p this week. Make sure your child is keeping their short letters below the mid-line and tall letters to the top.

Math – We will begin our unit on measurement. We will compare lengths, heights, and weights.

Writing – We are working on writing our own sentences correctly: capital letter at the beginning, spacing, and punctuation at the end.

Science – The four seasons will be our focus this week.

Book Logs – Book logs for November will be due on Wednesday. Please help your child complete their 15 books for the month. They will earn their Book-It reward if their goal is met!

Thankful – As we celebrate Thanksgiving, please know I am beyond blessed to be able to spend my days with each of your children. They are wonderful and make me smile each day. Thank YOU for your support and for sharing your precious gifts with me! Have a wonderful Thanksgiving!
