Next week at School

Reading: Next week we will begin a new unit of a story outside of the reading series. This story, Dr. DeSoto, will be used to work on problem/solution and linking story events to the actions of the characters.

Math: Next week we will work be using tangrams to see how to put shapes together and then decompose them into separate pieces.

Science: Next week we will be finishing Unit 3 Chapter 4 to conclude our investigation into animal characteristics.

Social Studies: The students will be working on an escape room and scavenger hunt of the states and capitals.

Language Arts: The fun unit of figurative language continues as we learn about personification.
